WHAT IS FIRST AID?

First aid is emergency care given immediately to an injured person. The purpose of first aid is to minimize injury and future disability. In serious cases, first aid may be necessary to keep the victim alive.

LEGISLATION

General Safety Regulations (GSR), Reg (3) First Aid, emergency equipment and procedures, states that an employer shall take all reasonable steps that are necessary to ensure persons at work receives prompt first aid treatment in case of injury or emergency. First Aid Kits must also be correctly placed and accessible for treatment when needed.

Shops and offices – one first aider for every 100 employees. Other workplaces – one first aider for every 50 employees. The first aider should be in possession of a valid first aid certificate, issued by a person or organisation approved by the chief inspector for this purpose.

Noncompliance with the OHS Act and the Regulations may lead to huge fines and imprisonment (check sections on offences and penalties).
